Dear Mr Hargraeves

Thank you very much for your generous donation of £80.00. Your support for this work really is appreciated.

Founded in 1953, the MS Society is the largest UK charity for people affected by MS, working locally and nationally to improve the situation of anyone touched by this distressing disease. Through many years of listening to the MS community, the Society has been able to focus its long term goals around the real needs of people with MS, their families and carers. For the 85,000 people already diagnosed and the 2,500 people who will experience the devastating blow of diagnosis each year, this means more and better support, no matter where they live in the UK.

Fundamental to the work of the Society is its provision of welfare support. Each year we help hundreds of people with grants for essential equipment and respite care, and we continue to widen our range of free MS information booklets. Our experienced Helpline staff are there to respond to the tremendous demand for information, guidance or simply a listening ear.

As the largest UK funder of research into MS, the Society currently invests around £5 million each year in over 50 research projects in the search for the causes of and a possible cure for MS, as well as new methods of symptom treatment and management. There is much still to be done, but the progress made in the last decade gives genuine hope for the future.

We exist to help all those affected by MS, but it is only the continued generosity of people like you that provides the resources we badly need to develop, welfare services and fund vital research. Thank you again for your vital contribution.

Best wishes

Sarah Williams
